Who Are We

We are the young people of the Focolare Movement present in 194 countries with over 100,000 members. We are from different faiths, cultures and social backgrounds.

Our goal is to build unity in diversity, one person at a time, in order to fulfill that project of universal fraternity which Jesus himself brought to the world: "May they all be one". We are committed to this goal in every sector of society: economic, political and cultural; through international campaigns, local and worldwide events, all types of projects and gestures of solidarity in daily life.

Quotes of Past Participants

"This retreat has really been like a booster shot that will help me go forward. It was really important for me to celebrate Easter in this way."

"It was a real eye-opener for me. It truly showed me how to be happy by loving others and how love can be the solution to everything."

"We can bring back with us what Easter is really about. This was a testimony that God is really here among us."
